SpringerBriefs in Research and Innovation Governance present concise summaries of cutting-edge research and practical applications across a wide spectrum of governance activities that are shaped and informed by, and in turn impact research and innovation, with fast turnaround time to publication. Featuring compact volumes of 50 to 125 pages, the series covers a range of content from professional to academic. Monographs of new material are considered for the SpringerBriefs in Research and Innovation Governance series. Typical topics might include: a timely report of state-of-the-art analytical techniques, a bridge between new research results, as published in journal articles and a contextual literature review, a snapshot of a hot or emerging topic, an in-depth case study or technical example, a presentation of core concepts that students and practitioners must understand in order to make independent contributions, best practices or protocols to be followed, a series of short case studies/debates highlighting a specific angle. SpringerBriefs in Research and Innovation Governance allow authors to present their ideas and readers to absorb them with minimal time investment. Both solicited and unsolicited manuscripts are considered for publication.

Horizon 2020 Framework Programme The book will be primarily based on work that was and is undertaken in the SHERPA project (www.project-sherpa.eu). It can, however, draw on significant amounts of work undertaken in other projects, notably Responsible-Industry (www.responsible-industry.eu), ORBIT (www.orbit-rri.org) and the Human Brain Project (www.humanbrainproject.eu). The SHERPA consortium has 11 partners from six European countries (representing academia, industry, civil society, standards bodies, ethics committees, art).
